The series that began with 4 interactive conversations on the Sacredness of Creation continues this winter with a more detailed look at the climate change crisis itself - how we got here, the current status, and how to move fiercely toward a resolution of the core issues. Each month a webinar with qualified keynote speakers will be followed by interactive conversations that provide an opportunity to share personal responses to the topic of the month.

Register separately for the webinars, conversations, and panel discussion, as your schedule permits. Participation in previous conversations is not required.

“The earth, lovingly created as an environment for life to flourish, shudders in distress because creation’s natural and living systems are becoming exhausted from carrying the burden of human greed and conflict. Humankind must awaken from its illusion of independence and unrestrained consumption without lasting consequences.” —Doctrine & Covenants 163:4b

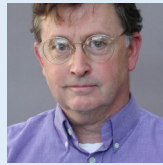

Sponsored by GPNWMC Mission Center, led by the North American Climate Justice Team
