Tuesday Summary

Tuesday at 2025 World Conference opened with delegates singing “Happy Birthday to You” for newly ordained Prophet-President Stassi Cramm.

It was also the first day at the presiding table for the newly ordained First Presidency—Janné Grover, Bunda Chibwe, and Cramm.

For the first time, in recent memory, a tornado moving through the area disrupted a Conference legislative session. Most of the approximately 1,300 people present went to the lower level of the Auditorium where they sang and waited for the all-clear. By 2:50, delegates were returning to the Auditorium Chamber. No injuries were reported.

Because translations occur simultaneously during legislative discussion, delegates are reminded to speak slowly. It works best if the speaker slowly offers a phrase, pauses, then continues with the next phrase.

Grover led the body in consideration of G-12 Promoting Peace by Reducing Gun Proliferation and Violence, which urges congregations and mission centers in any country where the church is established to reexamine policies and determine how to reduce firearms availability.

The majority of delegates eventually passed G-12, a demonstration of their commitment to Christ’s peace.

Rick Sarre, leader of the Community of Christ Peace and Justice Team, initially moved the vote on G-12. He noted that civilian gun violence kills more than 250,000 people globally in a year. He presented more statistics before Timothy Wayne Ross of Michigan spoke against the resolution. It crosses the threshold from faithful concern to an endorsement of a specific political stance, Ross said.

Elio Antonio Vallecillo Orellana of Central America opposed the motion. He was concerned about differences regarding firearms use and laws in his country and other countries versus the United States. “There is some concern about the negative repercussions...” where things are different.

Stephen Ukiwe Oleka of the Nigeria Mission Center suggested an amendment to G-12.

Oleka’s amendment and possible changes were the subject of debate through the afternoon. Attempts at editing by parliamentary procedure failed; his amendment did not pass.

Commenters opposing the original resolution urged the church to focus on the mental health issues thought by some to be the cause of gun violence. Others in the lectern queue had indicated support.

Elbert A. Smith Award

The Elbert A. Smith Award was presented to audio engineer David J. Wheaton by Communications Director Jenn Killpack. Wheaton is a fierce advocate of story-telling, Killpack said. He urges the church to embrace new forms of communication and does so himself. The award was presented during technical issues with lecterns on the Chamber floor, which generated a chuckle from delegates. Wheaton accepted the award for “all the people who work in the background.”

Apostles’ Ordination

Six new members of the Council of Twelve were ordained Tuesday evening in the Temple Sanctuary.

- Apostles Adam R. Wade, Carrie L. Welch, Joey S. Williams, Matthew J. Frizzell, Shannon J. McAdam, and Kathleen E. Hnatyshyn completed the council.
- Apostle Catherine Mambwe provided the homily.
- Central and South America Field members offered the ministry of music.

Community of Christ Women

Stop by the Historic Sites booth in the Mission Expo for button giveaways commemorating important women in Community of Christ history!

Barbara Higdon inspired generations of Graceland University students and church members in her peace and justice pursuits. While serving on the Graceland faculty, she was the first woman instructor to wear pants to work! In addition to campus dress reform, she served as Graceland President, Interim President, instituted the RN-BSN program, one of two distance-learning nursing programs in the U.S., and helped establish Graceland University/Community of Christ Seminary. She was a founding member of the John Whitmer Historical Association, chaired the Iowa Peace Institute, served as Director of Peace for the church, established Community of Christ's Peace Colloquy, and facilitated the church's first International Peace Award.

Calls to the 2025–2028 Standing High Council

4 June 2025

To the World Conference High Priest Quorum:

Dear friends of the High Priest Quorum:

In conversation with the First Presidency, three members of the 2023–2025 Standing High Council have decided to end their service. Lucy Ndabuk Ibanga stepped down in 2024 for personal reasons, while Sherri Kirkpatrick and Rick Sarre are stepping down at this Conference to create opportunities for new perspectives. We appreciate their dedicated service and contributions to the church.

To fill the three vacancies, the First Presidency is pleased to present the following candidates for the quorum's consideration: Ezekiel Eshiet Akpan, Macrine Boisabi Mochama, and Lisa Yen. The First Presidency has a strong affirmation of the movement of the Holy Spirit in bringing forward these calls. We are grateful for this guidance and the sacred "yes" of each candidate to serve.

We recognize that each candidate offers a unique set of skills and life experiences, which will enhance the diversity of perspectives within the council for the 2025–2028 interconference period. Biographical information follows below. If their calls are approved, the three new members will join the following individuals who will continue to serve on the council: David Byrn, Eva Erickson, Gwendolyn Hawks-Blue, Issac Bennet Joshua, Joan Thompson, Marilee Martens, Mark Dixon, Ronald Viera, and Vincent Lewis.

With humble respect for the approval process, we request the High Priest Quorum's support of these three calls.

Onward!

The First Presidency

Biographical Information

Ezekiel Eshiet Akpan

Ezekiel Eshiet Akpan, born in Akwa Ibom State, Nigeria, has an extensive educational background, including RN (general nursing), BSc (public health), PGD (anesthesiology), and PgD (education). With a career spanning decades in the Akwa Ibom State Ministry of Health, he retired as the state director of Nursing Services in 2020. Ezekiel is a guest lecturer and a recognized advocate for philanthropic projects. His church life began in the Methodist Church, Nigeria, and he joined Community of Christ in 1978. He has served in various capacities, including congregation secretary, financial officer, and counselor. Currently, he is part of the Nigeria Mission Centre President Team and was ordained to high priest in 2023. Married to High Priest Idongesit Ezekiel Akpan, they are blessed with children.

Macrine Boisabi Mochama

Macrine Boisabi Mochama, a lawyer with 11 years of post-bar experience, serves as an advocate of the high court in Kenya. She holds a law degree from the Catholic University of Eastern Africa and a postgraduate diploma from the Kenya School of Law, with ongoing master's studies in international trade law. Currently working as a senior legal researcher for the judiciary arm of the government, she runs her own law firm, Boisabi Mochama and Company Advocates. Joining Community of Christ in 2017, she was ordained to high priest in 2023 and serves as mission centre finance officer-associate and congregation finance officer in Nairobi. Married to Vincent Sagini Nyanuga, she is a mother of two and committed to her faith and professional responsibilities.

Lisa Yen

Lisa Yen, based in Sydney, Australia, holds a bachelor of psychology (Hons), a PhD in cognitive science, and is a graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors. As the chief executive officer of Microscopy Australia at the University of Sydney since 2022, she leads national initiatives to enhance research capabilities. With over fifteen years of experience in university administration and strategic research management, her career includes serving as chief operating officer for two organizations from 2011–2021. Her church involvement spans local, mission centre, and international levels, including roles as financial officer for the West Pennant Hills Congregation and counselor to the Australian Mission Centre president. Ordained as a high priest in 2017, she is dedicated to fostering communities of joy, hope, love, and peace.

Voting Instructions

Delegates in Independence and at remote sites will complete an online ballot to cast their vote for World Church Finance Board members.

You can vote from any smartphone or computer. There will be tablets with support staff in the Auditorium North Foyer over lunch TODAY to assist with voting. Delegates at remote sites can use the computers provided by the remote site coordinators.

Voting will be open between 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. (Independence time).

When you are ready to vote, you will need your delegate number and code, both of which are found on your delegate badge. If your code is missing, you will need to visit the registration booth for a replacement.

There are two ways to access the ballot.

1. Use or click on this link: <https://forms.office.com/r/qhh5yrUgQ7>
2. Use this QR code.

Once you open the ballot, choose your language in the upper right-hand box by using the drop-down menu. The ballot is available in English, French, and Spanish.

Then complete each question.

You can vote for up to 15 people. If you vote more than once, only your last ballot will be counted.

Ordination Prayers

Ordination of Stassi D. Cramm as Prophet-President by Stephen M. Veazey and Mareva Arnaud Tchong—1 June 2025

Eternal God of grace and peace, in this sacred moment, in the loving presence of disciples representing the worldwide church, we ordain Stassi D. Cramm as prophet-president for Community of Christ.

We recognize the historic nature and potential of this ordination. As this ordination occurs, we are mindful of all the women who blessed your people throughout history with their faith, giftedness, nurture, and sacrifices.

We acknowledge that with the feminine in ministry and leadership, our experience of divine nature is more authentic and complete. While Stassi is called in her own right as a gifted organizational and spiritual leader, we anticipate that through her ministry as prophet-president additional aspects of your eternal being and ways of relating to us will be seen more clearly.

Sustaining God, you have called and inspired many prophets across the ages. Therefore, we have confidence that you will uphold, guide, and bless this prophet of today. May Stassi find strength, inspiration, and hope in your unyielding presence. Also, bless her family members as they journey with her.

Generous God, Stassi has a strong faith, keen mind, and determination to always move forward despite any obstacles. She emphasizes shared leadership and community discernment of divine vision. Beyond these apparent qualities, may she summon us to dive with her into the deep waters of divine mystery, perplexing faith questions, and what is not yet fully evident, but already emerging in the church's future.

Through Stassi's prophetic voice of hope and concern, energize us to pursue the church's mission more fully in our physically fragile, chaotic, and conflicted world. As a result, may passion for your loving, just, and peaceful reign on earth become central in our lives as it was for Jesus Christ, who lived a holistic vision of shalom for impoverished, ostracized, and wounded people. May Stassi's witness of gospel imperatives motivate us to respond fully to our simple, yet profound call to be like Jesus.

Hidden and revealing God, you are beyond definition or description. You are not fully contained or explained in any human belief, language, or culture. Yet, through our church heritage, expectant faith, and shared experience, we also know you are self-revealing when, where, and how you choose to be.

As Stassi encounters you, however that might occur, may she express the meaning of her experiences in ways that will awaken the prophetic in all of us. May her witness of spiritual insight and hope in action embolden us to take faithful steps forward as our remarkable journey as Community of Christ continues.

Lastly, knowing the burdens of the prophetic office, I pray that you will frequently shepherd Stassi to quiet places of rest, prayerful reflection, and renewal. May inner peace, Christ's peace, abide with her as she embraces this call. In Christ's name, Amen.

Ordination of Bunda C. Chibwe to the First Presidency by Stassi D. Cramm and Stephen M. Veazey—2 June 2025

God of all nations, ethnicities, and tribes, we present to you Bunda C. Chibwe, a son of the Bemba people of Africa. Through the presence of Your Spirit, Steve and I, as ministers of Jesus Christ, ordain Bunda as a member of the First Presidency and a counselor to the president of Community of Christ.

From Bunda's early years in villages in Zambia and Congo to this sacred moment, you have prepared him for this call. Grant him the assurance of your full confidence as he serves in this presidential role.

May Bunda sense the spiritual presence of his ancestors, who delight in his call to serve in the First Presidency where he will help lead the church toward a just future in the spirit of Ubuntu. Magnify his efforts to uplift voices often distant from the Temple but yearning for peace, healing, and reconciliation.

We give thanks for the gifts Bunda brings to this sacred trust: global vision, theological wisdom, rich multicultural perspectives, multilingual abilities, and passionate, invitational witness. Guide him as he supports the church in balancing faithful interdependence with healthy autonomy.

Strengthen Bunda's prophetic clarity and free him to bring the fullness of his African heritage to this calling. Grant him the courage and confidence to lead the church in embodying the best of global traditions while releasing what no longer serves Your sacred dream for us.

Bless Bunda's family with peace and resilience in his absence. May their love be a sanctuary when he is far from home—a shelter of rest and renewal.

As Bunda joins his colleagues in the First Presidency, may our quorum empower the prophetic voice of the church—listening to the Spirit, living Christ's mission in every culture, and helping make Your vision visible in the world we are called to serve.

In the peace of Jesus Christ, we pray—Amen.

Ordination Prayer for Janné C. Grover to the First Presidency by Stassi D. Cramm and K. Scott Murphy—2 June 2025

God of boundless love and enduring hope,
With joy and deep trust, Scott and I, as ministers of Jesus Christ, ordain Janné C. Grover, as a member of the First Presidency and a counselor to the president of Community of Christ.

We give thanks for the journey that has prepared her for this moment and ask Your blessing as she steps into this sacred trust of presidential ministry.

Grant her wisdom shaped by her experiences and sharpened by a life of being fully present. May her love for others radiate through her leadership.

May the insights she carries from around the world become blessings for the whole church—leading us inward in disciple formation and outward in living Christ's mission as an embodiment of Your vision.

May Janné's steadfast hope, flowing from You, sustain her when the way is hard and be a light to others when shadows fall.

As a conductor of vision, attuned to the rhythm of the Holy Spirit, may we respond to her direction with harmony—our diverse voices and unique gifts blending into a living, faithful symphony of who You call us to be.

Bless her to lead us in singing a new song—a song that rises from bold vision while honoring the sacred echoes of our past.

Bless Janné as she helps the church magnify the Temple's witness—as a beacon of peace, a center of healing, a place of welcome for neighbor and stranger alike.

Hold her family in Your care. Surround them with strength and peace when she is away, and let their love continue as a strength supporting her ministry.

As Janné joins her colleagues in the First Presidency, may our shared service empower the prophetic voice of the church—to listen deeply, live courageously, and embody Christ's mission wherever Your Spirit leads.

We pray in the name of Jesus, the peaceful One—Amen.

Ordination of Mareva Arnaud Tchong to Presiding Evangelist by Bunda C. Chibwe and Stassi D. Cramm—2 June 2025

In this sacred place, with humility and joy, President Stassi and I tenderly place our hands on your head to ordain you President of the Evangelists and to set you apart as pastor to the members of the World Church Leadership Council, trusting in the call God has placed on your life.

Merciful Lord, it is by Your grace that Mareva has been chosen. May Your Spirit envelop her, give her wisdom, discernment, and heavenly vision to guide with faith and gentleness the order of Evangelists and as pastor to the World Church Leadership Council.

Make her a beacon of hope, a messenger of Your love, a living example of Christ the servant in words and actions. Lord, lighten her load in the face of challenges. Give her the strength to persevere, peace in times of trial, and the joy of seeing Your work accomplished through her. May she walk with confidence, animated by Your breath. May she be a faithful spiritual companion, a diligent student of Your word, a voice that blesses, a spiritual companion, a sanctuary with a heart that is attentive to the sufferings of the world.

May her presence bring comfort, her words uplift, and her ministry reflect the light of Your Kingdom in this ever-changing world. We give You thanks for her family, her sweetheart, Muna Arnaud, her three daughters, her grandchildren, and her extended family. May they be her strength and refuge in this mission.

We acknowledge the noble support of the Tahitian Church. May Your love surround them. And You, faithful God, watch over her. Protect her mind, body, and soul. May she be guided each day by Your clarity, Your love, and Your call. In the name of Jesus Christ, our light, our example and redeemer, Amen.

Awards and Recognitions

Elbert A. Smith Memorial Award Presented to David J. Wheaton

The Elbert A. Smith Memorial Award honors communicators that best represent the integrity, clarity, and soundness of intellectual and religious thought characteristic of Brother Elbert's work for the church's publishing house throughout the first half of the 20th century.

David J. Wheaton distinguished himself as a fierce advocate for the power of storytelling within the life of the church during his 37 years of service of employment and 9 years as a volunteer with Community of Christ Communications. In his role on the Electronic Media and Communications team, Dave has been instrumental in advancing the church's digital presence—ensuring that its message remains both relevant and resonant in an evolving technological landscape. His leadership in the studio and his expertise as an audio engineer have elevated the quality and reach of the church's media productions.

Throughout his career, Dave has demonstrated an unwavering dedication to digital storytelling, consistently pushing both himself and the church to embrace new forms of communication. He has documented stories of mission that brought the global church community closer together. Dave's passion for deep philosophical and theological engagement has often sparked meaningful discussions even during demanding production schedules. As a pastor, teacher, and minister, he has not only spoken of faith but lived it, modeling integrity and compassion throughout his life.

His legacy is marked by a consistent drive for excellence, a willingness to mentor and teach, and a profound desire to see the church flourish in both message and mission. Even after retirement, he has generously shared his time, skills, and expertise—mentoring colleagues and empowering the next generation of communicators.

With gratitude for his exemplary service and lasting impact, we present the Elbert A. Smith Memorial Award to David J. Wheaton as a testament to his enduring contributions to the church and its mission.
